

Introduction

Every year, thousands of children or woman<sup>e</sup> in Malaysia and around the world are exposed to domestic violence at the hands of trusted individuals, according to a global report developed jointly by the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), The Body Shop International and the Secretariat for the United Nations Secretary-General's Study on Violence against Children. Domestic violence, <sup>is</sup> also known as domestic abuse, spousal abuse, family violence, and intimate partner violence (IPV), <sup>and it</sup> has been broadly defined as a pattern of abusive behaviors by one or both partners in an intimate relationship such as marriage, dating, family, friends or cohabitation.

missing thesis statement

Paragraph

Domestic violence can be divided into <sup>four different</sup> ~~several~~ types. Firstly, Physical abuse. <sup>This can be a thesis statement. Put it as the last line of your introduction.</sup> The Physical abuse is <sup>as</sup> abuse involving contact intended to cause feelings of intimidation, pain, injury, or other physical suffering or bodily harm. This is will includes hitting, slapping, punching, choking, pushing, and other types of contact that result in physical injury to the victim. [The second type of domestic violence is Sexual abuse. Sexual abuse is a situation in which force or threat is used to obtain

this should be the -second paragraph participation in unwanted sexual activity. Coercing a person to engage in sex, even if that person is a spouse or intimate partner with whom consensual sex has occurred, is an act of aggression and violence. According to data from the Malaysian Department of Social Welfare 80 % <sup>percent of people who are</sup> engaged in sexual abuse <sup>are e</sup> is woman & ~~and~~ this should be the third

paragraph.

children. The next ~~of~~ domestic violence is emotional abuse. Emotional abuse is defined as any behavior that threatens, intimidates, undermines the victim's self-worth or self-esteem, or controls the victim's freedom. This can include threatening the victim with injury or harm, telling the victim that they will be killed if they ever leave the relationship, and public humiliation. People who are being emotionally abused often feel as if they do not own themselves; rather, they may feel that their significant other has nearly total control over them. Women or men undergoing emotional abuse often suffer from depression, which puts them at increased risk for suicide, eating disorders <sup>as well as</sup> and drug and alcohol abuse. <sup>Finally,</sup> And the last types <sup>of abuse is</sup> are Verbal abuse. The Verbal abuse is a form of abusive behavior involving the use of language. Verbal abuse will ~~be~~ includes bullying, defaming, defining, trivializing, harassing, interrogating, accusing, blaming, blocking, insulting, countering, diverting, lying, berating, taunting, putting down, discounting, threatening, name-calling, yelling, and raging. It may occur to a person of any gender, race, culture, sexual orientation, age, or size.

You may want to not include this in your essay.

This domestic violence will be effect on physical , like bruises, broken bones, head injuries, lacerations, and internal bleeding are some of the acute effects of a domestic violence incident that require medical attention and hospitalization. Some chronic health conditions that have been linked to victims of domestic violence are arthritis, irritable bowel syndrome, chronic pain, pelvic pain, ulcers, and migraines. Victims who are pregnant during a domestic violence relationship experience greater risk of miscarriage, pre-term labor, and injury to or death of the fetus. Other than that it's also effect on Psychological. Among victims who are still living with their perpetrators, high amounts of stress, fear, and anxiety are commonly reported. Depression is also common, as victims are made to feel guilty for 'provoking' the abuse and are constantly subjected to intense criticism. In addition to depression, victims of domestic violence also commonly experience long-term anxiety. The victim need counseling, if not, it will takes long time to heal.

Conclusion

In conclusion, domestic violence exists in our dairy <sup>lives</sup> life. It is one of the most serious problems <sup>and takes</sup> it has ~~different forms as domestic violence, terrorism, and vandalism. Even though any city or country, every person has to face these forms of violence in everyday life.~~ The effects of domestic violence can be in the form of physical effects, such as bruises, broken bones and chronic health conditions ~~and~~ <sup>3</sup> and also psychological effects, such as stress, fear and depression.

Done by syakirah & Noorazah

Syakirah & Noorazah,

Your essay has two parts. One is examples of domestic violence. The other is the effects of domestic violence. My advice is to concentrate on one. Let's just write about the examples of domestic violence.